Multidisciplinary Approach

At RTI, we combine the intellectual talents of leading scientists and researchers in more than 130 disciplines to form world-class project teams. Building teams using our own expert staff members lowers project management costs and facilitates collaboration. The results are creative, cost-effective solutions to meet your specific project needs.

Independent, Nonprofit Status

As an independent, 501(c)3 nonprofit institute, we have earned a reputation for excellence by providing clients with superior quality research, development, and technical services. Our scientists and experts are committed to the highest standards of scientific integrity, impartiality, and objectivity. We ensure that our work satisfies or exceeds client and regulatory requirements and delivers exceptional value.

Client Focus

At RTI, we are dedicated to providing our clients, large and small, with excellent customer support. Our corporate management team is available at any time to discuss challenges and propose creative solutions.

Why Choose RTI International?

Project Management Capacity

We have significant experience managing complex national, international, and multi-partner/multi-site research studies and projects. RTI is the prime contractor for some of the nation's largest studies and longitudinal research programs, including the National Survey on Drug Use and Health (NSDUH) and the National Survey of Child and Adolescent Well-Being (NSCAW).

We lead a USAID-funded program to support ministries of health in several countries to scale up treatment for seven neglected tropical diseases. Through 2011, RTI supported the delivery of more than 532 million treatments through national programs.

Financial Strength

RTI is a thriving institute with revenue of more than $777 million in 2011. We have the infrastructure, financial and risk management systems, and other resources necessary to ensure world-class research, development, and technical services.

Global Presence

Headquartered in Research Triangle Park, North Carolina, we maintain offices in the United States and around the world to support our ongoing projects and changing client needs. We have conducted projects in more than 140 countries and have more than 50 years of international experience. Our expanding capabilities and partnerships with leading international research organizations can accommodate your global needs.

University Affiliations

We maintain close working relations with some of the world's leading research universities, including Columbia, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, the University of Michigan, and Yale, as well as our three founding universities—Duke, North Carolina State University, and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Many of our scientists and experts serve as adjunct faculty members.

We have collaborated on international development projects with universities in China and Southeast Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Middle East.

A Great Place to Work

As a preferred employer, we are able to attract and retain the world's leading researchers, technical experts, and business professionals. When you hire RTI, you will be served by an experienced and stable team with a long-term commitment to you and your project.
